FIFA.com caught up with in-game leads, Carlos and Javier Bastos, and Lead Designer at SEGA, Ignacio Carmona-Gutierrez, to discuss the game's new gameplay features. Carlos: There are, again, two major changes, but they are very important, because they make our game better, and make this the best FIFA ever. So, first of all, the player dynamics. We are not saying that this is the player evolution, but we believe that at the end of the day, in terms of the experience, the way the player plays the game will be the way it is best. And, of course, our aim is to make the players enjoy the game and feel connected to the game. Because a game is only played by human beings, and not by numbers. The way that we want the players to play the game will be more realistic, more fast, more agile, and more exciting. Because ultimately, this is what we want to achieve with the gameplay changes, and this is how we are going to do it. The goalie screen is one of those that can be adapted to what I'm trying to say. Ignacio: These two changes are to bring the fast on-pitch feeling, and even more in the midfield. Today, we are not in control of the ball. We are chasing the ball. And, in truth, if you look at the teams that go for a long-ball game, the teams that play from a box-to-box game, they all have this fast off-the-ball game. And so, today, there is no play where you are not in control of the ball. You are playing the off-the-ball game, as well as the on-the-ball game. And so the best players in the world are doing it all the time. You cannot have a better player like Cristiano Ronaldo and not play off-the-ball. This year, we have a number of changes, so I can only talk about the two that we will use in the game - Acceleration and Ball Physics. Acceleration is what we are talking about, and it is when you really want the ball. And so, we have created a number of circumstances where the ball acceleration will be there, as well as the players - in big open spaces. But
