Waking up in a strange town. Finding yourself in a life-or-death situation. This is your reality. It's up to you to save the townspeople, whatever the cost. Is the town under attack? Is the town cursed? Is there anything behind these events? The answers are hidden in the town and in you. You'll encounter everyday objects, puzzles, weapons and tools. At every turn you'll need to make a new decision, because every turn is a life-or-death situation. So hurry up, make up your mind, and start making decisions. You'll need to have a good night's sleep to be able to face the day. You have to prepare yourself, and this includes a shower, brushing your teeth, and maybe a shave for the ladies. Rest is key. Rest is the most efficient way to save your life. This is the town of River Blade. A few weeks ago you were woken up in your cottage at the edge of town. Now you're in danger and you have to reach the center of the town and save all the innocent people. 40+ hidden object games Local multiplayer Suitable for people of all ages Unique chibi art style Unique and original soundtrack Plus other features to come Explore the best hidden object games and the new world of Akaburiko. Great news for all Greyfox RPG fans as I am very happy to announce that the Kickstarter for Greyfox RPG is now live. The fund raising campaign has 3 days left and more than $85,000 already raised. If you like what you read you can help me bring this project to life by backing the campaign now. Check out the video below and the original teaser page for more details and information. I'm working with the Greyfox studio to build a game unlike anything youve ever seen before. In Greyfox RPG you choose who to switch bodies with at critical moments in their lives. Make those all important decisions and youll find yourself on a wild adventure with some of your best friends as you slowly uncover the truth about this mysterious town and its mysterious inhabitants. This project will be the first game made by the Greyfox studio, and your help and feedback will be critical to making it happen. I'm confident that with your help we can produce a game that will thrill you, delight you, and hopefully even change the way you interact with other people. [About Greyfox RPG] Greyfox RPG is a dream come true for me. It's been a pleasure to work on a project where I get to work with a studio I admire so much. Building a game in a small team with the chance to interact with them and collaborate on design, writing, and art has been an amazing opportunity. I am excited to share the game we've been working on with you! On the Greyfox RPG, our vision is to be able to play the game from the beginning of the game by choosing one of our many character portraits. We also want to offer a level editor in the game to enable players to create their own levels and replay their favourite moments in their own style. Greyfox RPG aims to be a great interactive experience, while delivering a level of depth that few other games manage to achieve. We hope to inspire the community to create something amazing in the free level editor, and we will be there to help guide you through the process and help you with your creations. Other than this game, Greyfox are working on two other games, a card game titled Tyrant and a

What's new in Greyfox RPG:

published with its internal-engine Counter-Strike Video game publisher OGN has announced its newest game, an RPG called Greyfox. Consistent with the brand's previous RPG release, Cyber Revolution, the project is done with its internal engine, and will bring more of that game's "simplicity, familiarity and taut action in a new world." Like that game, Greyfox has a downloadable update called HurriSuit, which adds a unique court. One of the surprises about Greyfox is that it's a co-op, which has been reported "much to the chagrin" of publisher OGN. This explains why the game features "story sequences and missions that are designed to compliment team work, tactics and coordination," and with a negative beeping sound effect to represent death in team games. The title features "advanced virtual reality motion controls" that OGN claims highlight "the great features that the PS4 can do for gamers as well as what Greyfox can do for the Playstation brand." Unfortunately, this "co-play" is hard for us PS3 users to glean, because the game isn't coming to that system this time, and because OGN's US media account posted this trailer without telling us about the distinction. OH boy! I thought Greyfox would be a side quest add-on or free update DLC for Cyber Revolution. It's a whole new game! I've been working on some treats for gamers for weeks. Also, The author of this article must have been a grunt in Burn notice because I'm fairly certain that Counter strike has lower quality interfaces than Greyfox's narrators did. When only people who place eggshells on top of their keyboard in front of the TV can recognize how ridiculous it is to throw bad writing on the front page of a video game site, it is time for them to take a long flight to India. There are a couple of good comments in this blog on the post I linked to way back in November, 2011. I picked up pretty quickly on the fact that a lot of people thought GreyFox was going to be Counter-Strike. I just never got around to updating the article. I would suggest any of the folks who think GreyFox is going to have nice movement controls or something similar, playing it and getting a feel for it first before making your judgement. There are maybe three kinds of people who go to these kinds of blogs: 1. Gaming wusses who try to
