
How To Make A Growtopia Save.dat Stealer PORTABLE

a bit of information for people who want to use this in a server, although you'd be better off using the database in the game itself. it's inefficient to transfer data to and from a client to a server for something this simple. growtopia was a download manager from the cyberbully games that used to work until 2014, but have been unavailable for one year and a half. now it is a save.dat stealer that works well. when you install the game, you have to put the save.dat file location to your favorites. then when you update, the game will ask you where you want the save.dat file to be placed. when you put the location of the save.dat and restart you computer, the game will steal your save.dat and run growtopia to steal game data, mostly the xp as well as, data from the windows libraries. by the end of the game you will be the game master in this save.dat stealer. in the beginning, you will always get nine levels. if you get all levels, you will only have to control growth. you can see how the levels worked on the following pictures. main menu of the stealer: the menu screen to choose what you want the stealer to do. there are four options. the first two menus only affect growth, while the last two options affect the stealer. the first menu to choose is target. here you can choose if you want to steal data of the applications that you can control by the right click on the icon. the second menu is delete. here you can choose if you want the stealer to delete everything. (delete show everyting or delete just stealer data.) when you choose one of the items, the stealer will only give you that item when you get to the next level. it will also add a chest on the left side of the screen that is accessible by you. this chest contains the items that were chosen. for the other options, they only effect the stealer. however, in the case of "savewins" and "winraid", you can make an inventory of the chest that is in front of you by pressing. the chests will be temporary as they will only last through the next level. if you choose the "powereditems" option, you will always get one of the powered items. a powered item can be leveled up by powering it up. each level gives you one level.
